If emergency communications or remote control drones peak your interest, do not miss the Anytown Amateur Radio Symposium on August 13 at the Anytown Hall from 9:00 am until 1:00pm. Ham radio operators and youth groups will team up to demonstrate radio and related technology including ham radio emergency "Go Kits," remote control drones and other vehicles using amateur radio frequencies, as well as highlighting the newest amateur radio digital modes. The public is welcome and there is no admission charge.
